General marking principles for National 5 Art and Design

This information is provided to help you understand the general principles you must apply when marking candidate responses to questions in this paper. These principles must be read in conjunction with the specific marking instructions, which identify the key features required in candidate responses.

(a) Marks for each candidate response must always be assigned in line with these general marking principles and the specific marking instructions for this assessment.

(b) Marking should always be positive. This means that, for each candidate response, marks are accumulated for the demonstration of relevant skills, knowledge and understanding: they are not deducted from a maximum on the basis of errors or omissions.

(c) If a specific candidate response does not seem to be covered by either the principles or detailed marking instructions, and you are uncertain how to assess it, you must seek guidance from your team leader.

(d) It is possible that some candidates could have investigated artists and designers who are not known to the marker. In such cases, markers are expected to research the artists/designers before marking the response.

(e) Markers should consider the extent to which the candidate's response demonstrates their knowledge and understanding of art and design practice.

(f) Marks should not be awarded for mere descriptive comment. At this level, candidates are expected to justify their answers. To gain marks, candidates must develop points made.

For example, 'The painting has bright colours' would not gain a mark as it is simply descriptive, but

'The painting has bright colours and the use of warm vivid colours on the flowers makes them stand out as they contrast with the cool colours in the background', would gain a mark, as this answer shows an understanding of colour theory.

(g) No marks should be awarded for simply repeating information from the legend. Where candidates develop and use this information to justify their opinion or qualify their answer, credit can be given.

(h) To gain full marks, candidates must have responded to all aspects of the question. 8 marks are available for responding to the prompts relating to expressive art or design issues.

- if the candidate responds to only two of the three prompts effectively, then 1 mark cannot be accessed and a maximum of 7 marks can be gained by the candidate for this aspect of the question.
- if the candidate responds to only one of the three prompts effectively, the candidate can gain a maximum of 6 marks for this aspect of the question.

(i) The questions also require candidates to give an opinion with justified reasons which are worth 2 marks. Candidates must make two valid and substantiated points relating to the question to gain both marks

Overview

National 5 level candidates are required to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of key art and design issues, and knowledge and understanding of the work of at least two artists and two designers. The format of the questions reflects this emphasis. The paper is divided into Section 1: Expressive Art Studies and Section 2: Design Studies and each is equally demanding.

The questions are designed to test candidates' ability to respond critically to images of art and design works and to form and substantiate judgements about identified aspects of art practice and design issues.

The questions require candidates to demonstrate their understanding of art and design issues in an extended response format.

Mandatory questions (Q1 and Q7)

In these questions, candidates are required to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of key art and design issues and knowledge and understanding of the work of two artists and two designers. Candidates are expected to provide substantiated reasons to support their personal opinions.

The questions are divided into two parts

Part (a)
This part of the question assesses the candidates' ability to comment on the art and design works with explicit reference to the use of visual art/design elements and to express justified opinions on the identified examples of the work.

One mark should be awarded for each relevant, justified point, which responds to the question prompts up to a maximum of 10 marks.

Candidates are expected to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding with reference to specific artworks/designs.

Candidates who discuss only one artwork or design can only gain a maximum of 6 marks. Where this occurs, marks should be awarded as follows

- a maximum of 4 marks are available for discussing artwork with reference to one artist's use of the specific elements
- a maximum of 2 marks are available for giving an opinion on a specific aspect of the artist's or designer's work with two justified reasons.

Part (b)
This part of the question assesses the candidates' knowledge and understanding of the impact of social, cultural and other influences on the work and practice of a selected artist and designer from part (a).

One mark is awarded for each point which explains the impact of a social, cultural or other influence on any of the selected artist's or designer's work and practice up to a maximum of 5 marks.

Examples of social and cultural influences may include

- living conditions, including economic conditions
- influence of family and community
- influence of other artists/designers
- influence of art/design movements
- exposure to different cultures
- physical environment/geography
- new and emerging technology
- politics
- gender
- religion/belief
- national/world events
- developments in other fields for example, science, literature
- personal circumstances
- health and wellbeing.

In Section 1, Expressive Art Studies, question 1 part (a), candidates will respond by commenting on two works of art with a common stimulus/theme. They will be asked about specific issues in relation to the works they have selected.

In question 1 part (b), candidates will select one artist from part (a) and explain the impact of social, cultural or other influences on their work and practice. It is acceptable for candidates to refer to the artwork discussed in part (a) or the artist's work in general.

In Expressive Art Studies questions, where the term 'artwork' is used it should be interpreted in its broadest sense, covering painting, printmaking, photography, sculpture, installation, animation, film and video.

Candidates may also refer to groups of artists rather than individuals (for example, artists who work in pairs/groups such as the Boyle family), and this is acceptable.

In Section 2, Design Studies, question 7 part (a), candidates will respond by referring to two specific examples of designers' work. They will be asked about visual aspects and functional design issues in relation to the works they have selected.

In question 7 part (b), candidates will select one designer from part (a) and explain the impact of social, cultural or other influences on their work and practice. It is acceptable for candidates to refer to the design discussed in part (a) or to the designer's work in general.

In the Design Studies questions, the term 'design' should also be inclusive of any form of design. Occasionally candidates may refer to collections of designs (particularly in fashion/textiles answers), and this is acceptable.

Candidates may also refer to groups of designers rather than individuals (for example, Alessi or Timorous Beasties), and this is acceptable.

Optional questions (Q2–6 and Q8–12)

Candidates are asked to choose and respond to one other question from each section of the paper.

In each section, there is a choice of five different questions for personalisation and choice. These questions require candidates to give a personal response to one selected image from the choice of supplied questions and images in each section. They will demonstrate their understanding of specialist art and design vocabulary when commenting on key aspects of art and design practice and justifying their answers and opinions.

In Section 1, Expressive Art Studies, they will comment on an unseen image, demonstrating an understanding of important aspects of the artist's work.

In Section 2, Design Studies, they will comment on an unseen image, demonstrating understanding of specific design issues.

Each of these questions asks candidates to

- comment on the artist's/designer's methods or approach and/or their use of specific elements in the artwork/design shown
- give their opinion on a specific aspect of the work, justifying their opinions.

One mark should be awarded for each relevant, justified point, which answers the question up to a maximum of 10 marks. Markers should follow the specific marking guidance for each aspect of the questions provided in the table.

Marks should not be awarded for mere descriptive comments. To gain marks, candidates must develop or justify points made.

Substantiated comments and valid, justified personal opinions relating to the question should be rewarded. These opinions can be either positive or negative.

If a candidate answers more than one optional question in either section of the question paper, the answers should be marked and the response that gains the highest marks should be recorded.

<tr><th colspan="3">Question</th><th>Specific marking instructions</th><th>Max mark</th></tr>
<tr><td colspan="5">All candidates will answer this question</td></tr>
<tr><td>1.</td><td>(a)</td><td></td><td>
Candidates are expected to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding with reference to two specific artworks.

The two selected examples of artwork should clearly contain similar subject matter or be based on the same theme, for example two portraits, two still life paintings with similar objects, two coastal landscapes, two works based on war, fantasy, dance, etc.

Candidates' responses can be credited in a number of ways.

Candidates are asked to comment on their two selected artworks referring to
• composition/arrangement
• texture
• style.

Candidates' answers might include commenting on
• the composition/arrangement and the effect on the works
• the artists' use of texture for expressive effect and how this has been achieved
• the style of the work and how this has been achieved
• any other well-justified comments relating to composition/arrangement, texture and style.

Candidates may refer to a diverse range of artworks. The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks.
<tr><td>Composition/arrangement
The focal point is the blue bottle because it is the tallest object and the artist has placed it in the centre which draws the viewer's attention.</td><td>1</td></tr>
<tr><td>Texture
In Sunflowers, Van Gogh puts the paint on using thick brush strokes to show the realistic texture of the petals.</td><td>1</td></tr>
<tr><td>Style
In Donuts, the style is photorealistic as Goings has painted every tiny detail of the objects to make the painting look like a photograph.</td><td>1</td></tr>
</table>
</td><td>8</td></tr>

<tr><th colspan="3">Question</th><th>Specific marking instructions</th><th>Max mark</th></tr>
<tr><td></td><td></td><td></td><td>A maximum of 2 marks is available for giving an opinion on which of the artworks has most visual impact, with two justified reasons.

The table below gives an example of a point which would gain a mark.

<table><tr><td>Visual impact

I think that Chuck Close has created visual impact because of the very large scale of his self-portrait which makes it striking.</td><td>1</td></tr></table>
Marks should not be awarded for repeating earlier points if these points have not been developed in any way.</td><td>2</td></tr>
<tr><td></td><td>(b)</td><td></td><td>A maximum of 5 marks is available for explaining the impact of the social, cultural and/or other influences on any of the work and practice of one of the artists selected in part (a).

The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks.
<table><tr><td>Otto Dix was influenced by World War I, this can be seen in the subject matter of dead soldiers in Trench Warfare which shows the horror of his experience.</td><td>1</td></tr><tr><td>Joan Eardley was influenced by child poverty in the Gorbals. She often gave them snacks and drinks so that they would sit for her while she sketched them from life.</td><td>1</td></tr><tr><td>Picasso was influenced by Cezanne’s use of distorted perspective. This can be seen in his Cubist paintings, which show multiple viewpoints.</td><td>1</td></tr></table></td><td>5</td></tr>

<tr><td>2.</td><td></td><td></td><td>Candidates' responses can be credited in a number of ways up to a maximum of 10 marks.

This question asks candidates to

• comment on the painting referring to composition, tone and media handling and/or techniques
• give their opinion on the mood and atmosphere of the painting, with two justified reasons.

Marks can be awarded for relevant substantiated comments or points relating to the artist's composition, tone and media handling and/or techniques. One mark should be awarded for each relevant point made up to the maximum of 8 marks in total.

The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks.

<tr><td>Composition</td><td>• the cluttered, crowded composition mean that your eye is led around the painting
• to me, the focal point is the music book as it is the lightest colour making it stand out
• the composition is asymmetric because most of the objects are grouped on the left hand side with the right hand side being more negative space
• there are a lot of diagonal leading lines such as the violin. These lead your eye into the composition
• any other justified comments regarding composition.</td></tr>
<tr><td>Tone</td><td>• there is a wide tonal range as the artist has used very light tones in the books and for the highlights and very dark tones in the background and shadows
• light appears to be coming from the left and this highlights objects in the foreground
• the artist has used a variety of tones to suggest three-dimensional form. This makes the objects look realistic
• the artist has used strong contrast which makes the objects in the foreground stand out against the dark background
• there are more shadows than highlights which makes the painting very dark
• any other justified comments regarding tone.</td></tr>
</table>
</td><td>8</td></tr>
</table>

Question			Specific marking instructions	Max mark
			Media handling and/or techniques • the artist used carefully blended brushstrokes to make the objects look realistic • there is a high level of detail which would have been very time consuming to paint • oil paint takes a while to dry. This means that the artist has been able to keep adding layers and blending them to make the painting realistic • the artist has used a chiaroscuro technique which involves a strong contrast between light and dark which adds a sense of depth • any other justified comments regarding media handling and/or techniques.
			A maximum of 2 marks may be awarded for giving justified personal opinions on the mood and atmosphere of the painting. One mark should be awarded for each relevant point made up to the maximum of 2 marks in total. The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks. Personal opinion on mood and atmosphere of this painting • there is a mysterious mood because you wonder who all these objects belonged to and what they symbolise • the musical instruments which look like they have been abandoned make me think of a quiet atmosphere • the use of deep shadows and the dark background creates a mood of mystery • the skull in the background makes me think of death and creates a haunting mood • any other justified opinions on mood and atmosphere of this painting.	2

<tr><td>3.</td><td></td><td></td><td>Candidates' responses can be credited in a number of ways up to a maximum of 10 marks.

This question asks candidates to

• comment on the painting referring to composition, colour and media handling and/or techniques
• give their opinion on the mood and atmosphere of the painting with two justified reasons.

Marks can be awarded for relevant substantiated comments or points relating to the artist's use of composition, colour and media handling and/or techniques.

One mark should be awarded for each relevant point made up to the maximum of 8 marks in total.

The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks.

<table><tr><td>Composition</td><td>• both of the people in this painting have been posed to look like they know each other well as they are relaxed and sitting close together
• the focal point in the painting is the objects placed between the two figures because of the strong colour used in the oranges compared with the more neutral colours elsewhere
• the artist has used leading lines created by their legs and arms that lead you up each figure to the head
• the artist has put the two figures in an indoor setting because the curtains, the table and the mirror in the background show this
• the composition is symmetrical as the two figures are posed in a similar way which links to the title The Two Roberts
• any other justified comments regarding composition.</td></tr><tr><td>Colour</td><td>• the colour palette is mainly neutral as the artist has used lots of greys and browns
• there is a contrast of warm and cold colour across the painting as warm browns and skin-tones contrast with cooler blues and greens
• one figure is wearing warm browns and the other is wearing cool greys which may be about their different personalities
• the artist has used harmonising colours in the foreground and background. This brings the whole painting together visually
• any other justified comments regarding colour.</td></tr></table></td><td>8</td></tr>

Question			Specific marking instructions	Max mark
			Media handling and/or techniques • there are visible brushstrokes which gives the whole painting texture and gives an expressive effect • the figures have been painted with more detail than the background where looser brushstrokes have been used which creates contrast • it looks like the artist has used large brushes to apply the paint. This can be seen in the folds in the clothing which are made with large brushstrokes • the faces and the hands look realistic in the painting because they have been painted with smaller brushstrokes and more detail • any other justified comments regarding media handling and/or techniques.
			A maximum of 2 marks may be awarded for giving justified personal opinions on what this painting communicates. One mark should be awarded for each relevant point made up to the maximum of 2 marks in total. The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks. Personal opinion on what this painting communicates • the figures are posed so that they are not looking at each other or at the viewer. This communicates that they are in their own world • the relaxed body language and the fact that they have been positioned close to one-another suggests that they are friends • the way the artist has painted the facial expressions suggests that they look quite serious and thoughtful • both figures might be waiting for something as the artist has posed them in a relaxed and slouched position suggesting that they have been there for some time. • narrative interpretation • any other justified opinions on what this painting communicates.	2

• the use of horizontals and verticals to explain composition
• the scale of the small boats on the horizon against the large cliffs in the foreground gives a sense of distance
• the composition is asymmetrical because of the dominant shape of the cliffs on the right hand side
• the focal point is the tip of the rock on the left because the artist has painted the sunlight on it which makes it the brightest object, attracting your attention
• any other justified comments regarding composition.</td></tr>
<tr><td>Texture</td><td>• the artist has created lots of textures by using visible brushstrokes, for example to show the waves in the water and the rough cliffs
• contrasting brushstrokes have been used in the sky to suggest soft clouds
• the artist uses different directions of brushstrokes to create different texture effects for example horizontal brushstrokes on the cliffs
• broken brushstrokes and dabs of paint make the texture of the water look rough as if the wind is blowing

<tr><td colspan="5">All candidates will answer this question.</td></tr>
<tr><td>7.</td><td></td><td>(a)</td><td>Candidates are expected to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding with reference to two specific designs.

The two selected designs should be from the same design area, eg two posters, two products with similar functions, two buildings, two neckpieces, two theatrical costumes etc.

Candidates' responses can be credited in a number of ways.

Candidates are asked to identify and comment on two selected designs referring to

• fitness for purpose
• materials and/or techniques
• visual impact.

Candidates' answers might include commenting on:
• the designers' consideration of fitness for purpose and how this has affected the designs
• materials and/or techniques and their effect on the designs
• the visual impact of the design and how this has been achieved
• any other well justified comment relating to fitness for purpose, materials and/or techniques and visual impact.

<tr><td>9.</td><td></td><td></td><td>Candidates' responses can be credited in a number of ways up to a maximum of 10 marks.

This question asks candidates to

• comment on this product, referring to fitness for purpose, materials and style
• give your opinion on who would be the target market for this kettle, with two justified reasons.

Marks can be awarded for relevant substantiated comments or points relating to the fitness for purpose, materials and style.

One mark should be awarded for each relevant point made up to the maximum of 8 marks in total.

The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks.

<tr><td>Fitness for purpose</td><td>• the wide base gives the product stability which makes it safer and more fit for purpose
• the wide base allows the water to boil faster
• the indents on the handle allow the user to grip the kettle safely which increases the fitness for purpose
• although the kettle does not switch itself off, the whistling bird will alert the user when the water is boiled which means it is still fit for purpose
• the bird on the kettle could be attractive to children and pose a danger and impact its fitness for purpose
• any other justified comments regarding fitness for purpose.</td></tr>
<tr><td>Materials</td><td>• the steel is a good conductor of heat which means that the water would boil quickly
• the stainless steel would conduct the heat so would be too hot to touch and could be a health and safety issue
• the plastic is heat resistant so this is a good material to use for the handles and bird
• the stainless steel and the plastic used are both durable materials which means the product would last a long time
• any other justified comments regarding materials.</td></tr>

This question asks candidates to

• comment on this engagement ring design, referring to materials and/or techniques, decoration and wearability
• give your opinion on the visual impact of this engagement ring, with two justified reasons.

Marks can be awarded for relevant substantiated comments or points relating to the designer's use of materials and/or techniques, decoration and wearability.

One mark should be awarded for each relevant point made up to the maximum of 8 marks in total.

The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks.
<table>
<tr><td>Materials and/or techniques</td><td>• the use of gold which is an expensive material suggests that this is a status piece
• the use of enamel adds colour to the piece which adds interesting detail
• the piece must have been time consuming to produce as it is very complicated which would have been made by hand at this time
• it would require a high level of skill to create the detail and complicated patterns in the ring
• any other justified comments regarding materials and/or techniques.</td></tr>
<tr><td>Decoration</td><td>• the decoration is very regular and symmetrical making it visually pleasing
• the effect of the floral decoration
• the volume of decoration
• intricate use of gold patterns and textures create a highly decorative effect
• the light and dark blue enamel centre piece creates a focal point
• the use of rich blue decoration gives a regal look suggesting it is suitable for nobility/royalty
• the forms of the domes around the ring create a 3D decorative element
• the decorative engraving inside the hidden compartment suggests that it has been made for a particular person
• any other justified comments regarding decoration.</td></tr>
