General marking principles for National 5 Art and Design

Always apply these general principles. Use them in conjunction with the detailed marking instructions, which identify the key features required in candidates' responses.

(a) Always use positive marking. This means candidates accumulate marks for the demonstration of relevant skills, knowledge and understanding; marks are not deducted for errors or omissions.

(b) If a candidate response does not seem to be covered by either the principles or detailed marking instructions, and you are uncertain how to assess it, you must seek guidance from your team leader.

(c) It is possible that some candidates could have investigated artists and designers who are not known to the marker. In such cases, markers are expected to research the artists/designers before marking the response.

(d) Markers should consider the extent to which the candidate's response demonstrates their knowledge and understanding of art and design practice.

(e) Marks should not be awarded for mere descriptive comment. At this level, candidates are expected to justify their answers. To gain marks, candidates must develop points made.

For example, 'The painting has bright colours' would not gain a mark as it is simply descriptive, but

'The painting has bright colours and the use of warm vivid colours on the flowers makes them stand out as they contrast with the cool colours in the background', would gain a mark, as this answer shows an understanding of colour theory.

(f) No marks should be awarded for simply repeating information from the legend. Where candidates develop and use this information to justify their opinion or qualify their answer, credit can be given.

(g) To gain full marks, candidates must have responded to all aspects of the question. 8 marks are available for responding to the prompts relating to expressive art or design issues.

- if the candidate responds to only two of the three prompts effectively, then 1 mark cannot be accessed and a maximum of 7 marks can be gained by the candidate for this aspect of the question.
- if the candidate responds to only one of the three prompts effectively, the candidate can gain a maximum of 6 marks for this aspect of the question.

(h) The questions also require candidates to give an opinion with justified reasons which are worth 2 marks. Candidates must make two valid and substantiated points relating to the question to gain both marks.

Overview

National 5 level candidates are required to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of key art or design issues, and knowledge and understanding of the work of at least two artists or two designers. The format of the questions reflects this emphasis. The paper is divided into Section 1: Expressive Art Studies and Section 2: Design Studies and each is equally demanding.

The questions are designed to test candidates' ability to respond critically to images of art or design works and to form and substantiate judgements about identified aspects of art practice or design issues.

The questions require candidates to demonstrate their understanding of art and design issues in an extended response format.

Mandatory questions (Q1 and Q7)

In these questions, candidates are required to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of key art or design issues and knowledge and understanding of the work of two artists or two designers. Candidates are expected to provide substantiated reasons to support their personal opinions.

The questions are divided into two parts

Part (a)

This part of the question assesses the candidates' ability to comment on the art or design works with explicit reference to the use of visual art/design elements and to express justified opinions on the identified examples of the work.

1 mark should be awarded for each relevant, justified point, which responds to the question prompts up to a maximum of 10 marks.

Candidates are expected to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding with reference to specific artworks/designs.

Candidates who discuss only one artwork or design can only gain a maximum of 6 marks. Where this occurs, marks should be awarded as follows:

- a maximum of 4 marks are available for discussing artwork or design work with reference to one artist's or designer's use of the specific elements
- a maximum of 2 marks are available for giving an opinion on a specific aspect of the artist's or designer's work with two justified reasons.

Part (b)

This part of the question assesses the candidates' knowledge and understanding of the impact of social, cultural and other influences on the work and practice of a selected artist or designer from part (a).

1 mark is awarded for each correct influence identified up to a maximum of 2 marks.
A maximum of 3 marks are available for describing how the influences can be seen in any of the selected artist's or designer's work.

Examples of social and cultural influences may include:

- living conditions, including economic conditions
- influence of family and community
- influence of other artists/designers
- influence of art/design movements
- exposure to different cultures
- physical environment/geography
- new and emerging technology
- politics
- gender
- religion/belief
- national/world events
- developments in other fields for example science, literature
- personal circumstances
- health and wellbeing.

In Section 1, Expressive Art Studies, question 1 part (a), candidates will respond by commenting on two works of art with a common stimulus/theme. They will be asked about specific issues in relation to the works they have selected.

In question 1 part (b), candidates will select one artist from part (a) and explain the impact of social, cultural or other influences on their work and practice. It is acceptable for candidates to refer to the artwork discussed in part (a) or the artist's work in general.

In Expressive Art Studies questions, where the term 'artwork' is used it should be interpreted in its broadest sense, covering painting, printmaking, photography, sculpture, installation, animation, film and video.

Candidates may also refer to groups of artists rather than individuals (for example artists who work in pairs/groups such as the Boyle family), and this is acceptable.

In Section 2, Design Studies, question 7 part (a), candidates will respond by referring to two specific examples of designers' work. They will be asked about visual aspects and functional design issues in relation to the works they have selected.

In question 7 part (b), candidates will select one designer from part (a) and explain the impact of social, cultural or other influences on their work and practice. It is acceptable for candidates to refer to the design discussed in part (a) or to the designer's work in general.

In the Design Studies questions, the term 'design' should also be inclusive of any form of design. Occasionally candidates may refer to collections of designs (particularly in fashion/textiles answers), and this is acceptable.

Candidates may also refer to groups of designers rather than individuals (for example Alessi or Timorous Beasties), and this is acceptable.

Optional questions (Q2—6 and Q8—12)

Candidates are asked to choose and respond to one other question from their chosen section of the paper.

In each section, there is a choice of five different questions for personalisation and choice. These questions require candidates to give a personal response to one selected image from the choice of supplied questions and images in each section. They will demonstrate their understanding of specialist art and design vocabulary when commenting on key aspects of art and design practice and justifying their answers and opinions.

In Section 1, Expressive Art Studies, they will comment on an unseen image, demonstrating an understanding of important aspects of the artist's work.

In Section 2, Design Studies, they will comment on an unseen image, demonstrating understanding of specific design issues.

Each of these questions asks candidates to:

- comment on the artist's/designer's methods or approach and/or their use of specific elements in the artwork/design shown
- give their opinion on a specific aspect of the work, justifying their opinions.

One mark should be awarded for each relevant, justified point, which answers the question up to a maximum of 10 marks. Markers should follow the specific marking guidance for each aspect of the questions provided in the table.

Marks should not be awarded for mere descriptive comments. To gain marks, candidates must develop or justify points made.

Substantiated comments and valid, justified personal opinions relating to the question should be rewarded. These opinions can be either positive or negative.

If a candidate answers more than one optional question in either section of the question paper, the answers should be marked and the response that gains the highest marks should be recorded.

<tr><td colspan="5">All candidates who have chosen Section 1 will answer this question.</td></tr>
<tr><td>1.</td><td>(a)</td><td></td><td>Candidates are expected to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding with reference to two specific artworks.

The two selected examples of artwork should clearly contain similar subject matter or be based on the same theme, for example two portraits, two still life paintings with similar objects, two coastal landscapes, two works based on war, fantasy, dance, etc.

Candidates' responses can be credited in a number of ways.

Candidates are asked to comment on their two selected artworks referring to:
• composition/arrangement
• texture
• subject matter/imagery.

Appropriate answers here would include comments on:
• the composition/arrangement and the effect on the works
• the artists' use of texture for expressive effect and how this has been achieved
• the subject matter/imagery of the work and how this has been achieved
• any other justified comment.

Candidates may refer to a diverse range of artworks. The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks.

Candidates' responses can be credited up to a maximum of 5 marks. This question asks candidates to select one artist from part (a).

Identify two influences on this artist and describe how these influences can be seen in any of their work.

Marks should be allocated as follows:
• 1 mark should be given for each specific correct influence identified, up to a maximum of 2 marks.
• 1 mark should be given for each clear description of how the influences identified can be seen in any of the artist's work up to a maximum of 2 marks.

One additional mark should be given up to a maximum of 5 marks in total for:
• a further developed point which gives additional detail on how one particular influence is seen in the artist's work

OR

• a further point describing another way one particular influence is seen in the artist's work.

This question asks candidates to:
• comment on this sculpture referring to materials and/or techniques, form and scale
• give their opinion on what this sculpture communicates with two justified reasons.

Marks can be awarded for relevant substantiated comments or points relating to the artist's use of materials/and or techniques, form and scale.

1 mark should be awarded for each relevant point made up to the maximum of 8 marks in total.

The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks.

<table><tr><td>Materials and/or techniques</td><td>• the materials raise environmental awareness as it is a whale made from plastic waste
• the materials symbolise how plastic is dangerous to marine life
• the materials used in the sculpture symbolise the number of whales who have died from eating plastic
• the plastic waste is closely packed together to make the whales body strong and durable
• although the sculpture looks heavy, the plastic materials are very lightweight
• a lot of plastic waste is used to make this sculpture but this is only a small amount of what is thrown away each year
• the artists have used blue and white plastic to represent the colour of the whale
• the repeating shapes of the plastic waste give it a mosaic appearance
• any other justified comments regarding materials and/or techniques.</td></tr><tr><td>Form</td><td>• although the sculpture is made from plastic materials, it still resembles the realistic form of the whale
• the form of the sculpture is balanced to ensure stability and safety in a public place
• the form of the sculpture looms over the people below, showing the strength of the whale
• the form is constructed of different plastic containers to give an overall impression of the shape of a whale
• the pose of the whale appears to jump from the water as it is part submerged with the bulk above water
• any other justified comments regarding form.</td></tr></table></td><td>8</td></tr>

<tr><td colspan="5">All candidates who have chosen Section 2 will answer this question.</td></tr>
<tr><td>7.</td><td>(a)</td><td></td><td>Candidates are expected to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding with reference to two specific designs.

The two selected designs should be from the same design area, for example two posters, two products with similar functions, two buildings, two neckpieces, two theatrical costumes etc.

Candidates' responses can be credited in a number of ways.

Candidates are asked to identify and comment on two selected designs referring to:
• function
• target market/audience
• visual impact.

Candidates' answers might include commenting on:
• each designers' consideration of function and how this has affected the designs
• how the designers have made the design appeal to a specific target market/audience
• visual impact of the design and how this has been achieved.

Candidates may refer to a diverse range of design works. The table below gives examples of points which would gain marks.

<table><tr><td>Function

Nord Express is designed to encourage people to travel as the imagery creates a sense of speed through the use of leading lines.</td><td>1</td></tr><tr><td>Target market/audience

The target market for the dragonfly corsage was Sarah Bernhardt. It was a one-off piece made especially for her.</td><td>1</td></tr><tr><td>Visual impact

The Riverside Museum has great visual impact because it has an unusual geometric form. This can be seen in the jagged roof which makes it stand out.</td><td>1</td></tr></table>
A maximum of 2 marks is available for giving an opinion on which of the two designs is most appealing with two justified reasons.

The table below gives an example of a point which would gain a mark.

<table><tr><td>Most appealing

The kettle by Michael Graves is most appealing to me because it has a fun element with the cartoon bird whistle.</td><td>1</td></tr></table>
